Hi, All,

I thought the Tuesday round of candidates for our MS program were very strong both academically and interpersonally. I know some of you have echoed these sentiments. Many of us have received thank you emails from these candidates expressing their interest in our program.

To keep the momentum going post-interview, I propose sending a brief email, within 1-2 days, to each of the candidates we interview. I'm hoping this personalized communication from us may make a lasting impression on their SHU experience while setting us apart from other universities where they may interview.

The email can be as simple as, "It was a pleasure getting to meet you on Tuesday evening and learning more about your interests in our profession. A sentence or two here personalizing your message. Please do not hesitate to reach out if you have any questions about our program. We look forward to hearing from you".

Eva Magnuson will delay her follow-up email so we have the opportunity to reach out first.

Attached are the email addresses for the first group of candidates (2/4), email addresses for the remaining candidates will be forthcoming.

I know that we are all busy and that adding something else to our plates can be difficult. I hope that this small gesture may yield large gains for our MS SLP program.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best,
Liz
